GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Hancock Military Clique Unhappy

New York, O[illegible] Governor's Island and the department might [illegible] the next president. He knows that Garfield [illegible] will be a power behind the throne [illegible] in position to ask favors [illegible] McDowell a junior major general [illegible] of this department and sent Hancock [illegible]. Then he did his utmost to cripple Hancock [illegible] the latter was in command [illegible] that old Hancock do not trust [illegible]. He would either [illegible] would not and when he found he could not [illegible] must content himself with being a figure [illegible] be resigned and he did what any high spirited [illegible] would have done. [illegible] may be written.

Meeting of Prominent Mercantile Associations.

New York, Oct. 7.—In response to a circular letter [illegible] annual [illegible] the board of trade and transportation [illegible] there convened at the board of trade rooms this morning representatives [illegible] from various parts of the country, the west being well represented, for the purpose of devising means for the correction of abuses in the readjustment of trade relations and facilities which demand the intervention of congress. The most important of these subjects is the promotion of navigation laws and the adoption of some plan for the recovery of our foreign trade. A series of resolutions were adopted which declared that measures should be taken by the government to restore commerce and afford ship owners [illegible] lines of steamships to important [illegible] the payment of proper sums for transporting mails, and the abolishment of all compulsory [illegible]. A resolution was also offered recommending [illegible] the law of 1817 forbidding any foreign ship to bring cargo to the United States [illegible] ports of the country to which it belongs.

Congressional Nomination.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The democratic [illegible] for the 33d congressional district, nominated [illegible] Vaneampen in place of Prof. Bellam who [illegible] the nomination of the former convention.

[illegible] Says He has Money Enough to [illegible]

Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—Chairman Barnum said to-day in reply to Landers's charges that republicans [illegible] a great deal of money, "I shall be in Indianapolis on election day, spending the morning here and the afternoon in Terre Haute and we will show that we have as much money as is necessary." A bystander suggested he had [illegible] a little of it on his own state. Barnum made no reply.

Reunion of Grant's Old Regiment.

Danville, Ills., Oct. 7.—Gen. Grant's old regiment, the 21st Illinois, had its reunion here to-day and it was a great success. Three thousand soldiers were present. Gen. Grant arrived late in the afternoon. A very large crowd was gathered to hear Grant's address to the soldiers of his old regiment, the 21st Illinois. After speaking of the service of the soldiers in the war and their return to peace, he said: In their fields, on their farms and in their stores they are developing our great territories and preparing them to become states in this union. How much the 21st Illinois has contributed to it I am not aware, but I will warrant some of you are living in the new states and territories who are unable to be present on this occasion. Gentlemen, I am glad to see so many of you and I hope in the course of the evening we will be able to renew the acquaintance of some of you. Speeches followed from Gen. Logan, ex Gov. Oglesby and others.

Grant at Decatur.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 7.—General Grant was escorted to the fair grounds this morning to meet his old regiment, the 21st of Illinois, and made a characteristic speech to them and to 10,000 soldiers and citizens who had gathered. He was followed by General Logan, after which the whole party sat down to a hard tack dinner.

[illegible] Appointments.

New York, Oct. 7.—In the Episcopal general convention to-day, the president announced chairmen of standing committees including Rev. Jas. Craik [illegible] a division of new dioceses and Rev. Dr. Locke of [illegible].

Protestant Episcopal Convention.

New York, Oct. 7.—In the Protestant Episcopal convention Dr. E. E. Beardsley was chosen president and Rev. Charles L. Hutchings secretary of the convention of the house of deputies. Dr. [illegible] of New York, was chosen secretary of the house of bishops.

The Georgia Election.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 7.—Specials from all sections indicate Colquitt's election by between [illegible] and 50,000 majority. The colored vote went largely for him everywhere. The full state ticket is elected. Emory Speer, [illegible] independent candidate getting a good vote in some places. Republicans make some gains in the general assembly and a majority of the next legislature is [illegible] in favor of Senator Joe Brown's election. The election was quiet, the [illegible] was not vigorously enforced.

Foreign Missionary Board.

Lowell, Oct. 7.—In the session of the American board commissioners for foreign missions interesting addresses were made by Rev. R. S. [illegible] Winnell and others. Geo. Morris, [illegible] association of Congregationalists in California, sent a telegraphic salutation, to which a reply was sent by the committee.

A Greenback Nomination.

[illegible] Oct. 7.—The greenbackers of the first district nominated L. E. Stone for congress.

[illegible] Democrats to Carry Ohio and Indiana.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The Inter-Ocean's Columbus [illegible] says: Democrats are sending money into all towns [illegible] and never thought of [illegible] before, and making desperate attempts in Ohio. Roughs and repeaters are circulating through the state and gaming and going [illegible] every day. The following was [illegible] to-day by Gov. Foster:

[illegible] WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.

[illegible] is to be carried by the democracy if [illegible] votes have to be imported. I know [illegible] speak. Don't be deceived.

JAY A. HUBBELL,
[illegible] National Congressional Committee.

[illegible] has ordered special watchfulness here [illegible] the chairman of the republican [illegible] at Petersburg, Va., sends word that 40 [illegible] have gone west during the past two days [illegible] en route for Ohio. They [illegible] well known scoundrels and will not scruple to employ any means to earn their money. [illegible] of Indianapolis, telegraphs that many [illegible] have arrived there and many have been [illegible] throughout Indiana, but [illegible] detectives from the east will do everything [illegible] the play of unwelcome roughs [illegible] to keep them from the ballot [illegible]. Republicans are now alive as never before.

Hancock the Martyr.

[illegible] Oct. 7.—A letter is published under date [illegible] from Hancock to John B. Hasken of New [illegible] which he thanks the latter for advocacy of [illegible] for president and says that he knows [illegible] wide spread effort to make his name [illegible]. That fact arose from the probable candidacy of Gen. Grant and from his share [illegible] work. He was anxious for the [illegible] conservatism over radicalism but had no [illegible] to be president. His position if nominated [illegible] he had no profession [illegible] no riches, but he would not [illegible] account he could win and others [illegible].

Congressional Nominations.

A PACIFIC MAIL GRAB.

A Huge Subsidy Smuggled into Legislation, and only now Discovered

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Washington, Oct. 7.—A profound sensation has been created in the postoffice department by the discovery that a large subsidy to the Pacific Mail steamship company had been smuggled through congress unnoticed under cover of a provision in the postoffice appropriation bill. It will be remembered that last winter Davis of California was anxious to have a provision made by which a certain portion of the price paid to the United States for transcontinental transportation of mails be refunded to the colonies of New Zealand and New South Wales. It was explained, however, that those colonies had nothing to do with it but that the money was paid to the United States by England for carrying the mail between New York and San Francisco amounting to about $81,000 per year under an agreement between England and her colonies that the former pays expenses of transportation to and from San Francisco and that the colonies take it from there. It was then argued that the United States received great benefits from the Australian trade and European travel that comes across the Pacific from the colonies to San Francisco, that these colonies were poor and were now under contract to pay the Pacific Mail Steamship company $[illegible] per year for monthly service but could not afford to renew it and when the contract expired the line would have to be taken off and there would then be no direct communication between San Francisco and New Zealand, New South Wales and other Australian colonies.

In spite of these appeals the attempt failed in the senate and postoffice officials supposed the matter had been killed till the printed law was received to-day, one section of which says: "For which transportation of foreign mails $[illegible] provided that the postmaster general be authorized to remit in favor of the colonies of New Zealand and New South Wales so much of the cost of overland transportation of the Australia closed mails as he may deem just." As noted above, the $80,000 received by the United States for that service comes from England, so if it is turned over to the colonies it will be a clear gift, and might as well come from the treasury direct, because there is no profit from the business, since our postoffice department merely charges England cost price for the service. It is nothing more than a provision for a subsidy to the steamship line, though it seems that part of the money going to the colony is to be paid to the proprietor of the line by them instead of giving check direct on the treasury of the United States. The postmaster general is away and does not know of the novel duty imposed upon him and there was no way of learning what he thought of it. It was such an astounding revelation to other officials that they did not like to venture an opinion on the matter. The clause gives the postmaster general such powers it will be noticed that he may turn the whole of the amount received for overland service into the coffers of the Pacific Mail Company, if he deems it just. Mr. Blackfan, superintendent of foreign mails, suggested that perhaps it could be arranged by saying to England that the United States would remit 50 per cent of the amount received from her each year provided she would pay it over to the colonies. England, however, may think we receive benefits enough from the Australian trade to amend to the matter in hand. The style in the spirit of the proviso smuggles in. It is believed at the postoffice department that the clause was smuggled in through a conference committee and signed by the president unwittingly, for it is not believed that he would knowingly have placed such duty of discretionary disbursement of so large an amount of money in the hands of the postmaster general.

BUSINESS FOR SEPTEMBER.

The "Public's" Statement and Comments—Volume of Exchanges somewhat Smaller than the Corresponding Month in 1879.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

New York, Oct. 6.—The clearing house exchanges to be published to-morrow's Public, show that for the week ending October 2, the following cities report decreased business transactions as compared with the corresponding week in 1879: New York 56.9 per cent; Philadelphia 9.10; Baltimore, 10.9-10; San Francisco, 20.4; Milwaukee, 33.6; Syracuse, 17.7. The following report gains: Boston 8.6; Chicago, 13.4; Cincinnati, 11.2; St. Louis, 11.2; Louisville, 17.1; Pittsburg, 52.9; New Orleans 5.4; Providence, 5.7; Kansas City, 14.5; Indianapolis 40.9; Cleveland 9.6; New Haven, 44.3; Lowell, 2.[illegible] The decrease at New York is wholly due to the difference in activity of stock speculation. Deducting the value of stocks sold last year, New York's increase this year would be over ten per cent. Total transactions at all cities this week were about $930,000,000 against 962,000,000 same time last year, being a loss of 3 1-13 per cent.

The Public comments as follows: September has been a month of sore disappointments in business. The recovery from mid-summer dullness and the beginning of the active movement of crops usually make the month's transactions especially significant as to business prospects for the remainder of the year, but the exchanges don't promise much.

Transactions outside of New York have been smaller than for any other month except June and August, whereas last year they were larger than for any previous month. Exchanges at New York have been smaller than for any other month except July and August, while they were exceeded last year only by those of May. The comparison of exchanges here with those of the corresponding month last year is less valuable than usual, because the extraordinary speculation in stock in September, 1879, peculiarly inflated exchanges, and it is well to notice that the exchanges not presumably arising from stock operations, exceeded those of the same month last year by 28.8 per cent, which, in view of the difference in prices, indicates a large increase in quantities of products moved by payments here. But it is not possible to draw as much encouragement from the transactions outside of New York, which show a smaller increase over the corresponding month last year than those of any preceding month in 1880. For some weeks the reports have showed less regular increase at the different cities than they did earlier in the year.

In another place the Public says: There will be no reason hereafter to regard exchanges as unaltered if they do not show great increase in comparison with those of corresponding weeks or months in '79, because in October an extraordinary increase of business began last year and continued with little interruption either in respect to legitimate or speculative transactions until the first quarter of '80 had passed. As speculative transactions this fall are thus far and it is to be hoped will remain comparatively moderate in amount, exchanges not larger than those of '79 may indicate hereafter a very satisfactory and healthy condition of business.

THE LATEST INDIAN OUTRAGE.

Reprehensible Conduct of the Indian Agent and U. S. Officers.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Denver, Oct. 7.—Advices from Del Norte give the following particulars of the killing of the son of the Indian chief 30 miles east of Los Pinos agency [illegible] 19th. About 7:30 in the evening two Indians came whooping into the freighters' camp of J. H. Jackson, calling him and his four drivers vile names and acting as though they intended to shoot. An Indian who is supposed to be the one who was killed [illegible] the shot when A. S. Jackson, nephew of J. H. Jackson, fired at him. The next day the party were surrounded by Indians who demanded the men who did the shooting the night before. Agent Berry, Mr. Meacham and Capt. Shelly then arrived with fifteen soldiers, arrested the freighters and put them under the guard of ten men and ten or fifteen Indians over night. Previous to his arrest J. H. Jackson requested protection from a major named Arkmon who had 200 soldiers under him, but the major replied that he was not there to protect the whites. The next morning the freighters were marched to Kline's ranch, where the soldiers disarmed them, even taking their pocket knives, after which they were dismissed, the agent and officers stating that they were not in their jurisdiction. Thus these five men were left defenseless in an Indian country and denied protection by government officers, who had ample force, and knew the men had acted in self defense, excepting Colonel Beaumont who at the risk of censure from his superior officers, sent sufficient force to escort them towards Saguache. On arrival at Kline's ranch Agent Berry told Jackson to obey Capt. Kline's instructions and they would be unharmed. Kline attempted to get them to proceed toward their destination which would have resulted in their death. Young Jackson who did the shooting gave himself up to Messrs. Kline, Hoyt, Holmes and one Indian to be taken to Gunnison City for trial. These men took Jackson without guard and started towards Gunnison City and proceeded three miles when they reported that the Indians overpowered them and took the prisoner, but it is asserted by a man who overheard their conversation, that Kline, Hoyt and Holmes intended giving Jackson up to the Indians when they left Kline's ranch. The freighters begged the military officers for their arms to protect themselves but were refused. Steps are now being taken north of here to avenge Jackson's death as soon as it is definitely ascertained.

MEXICAN RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

What is being Done—List of Enterprises in Progress.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

New York, Oct. 7.—[illegible] says: President Diaz has signed contracts with two [illegible] international lines [illegible] Mexican Central Company [illegible] Mexico between the cities [illegible] passing through the [illegible] to Guadalajara. The total mileage [illegible] is estimated to be about 1500 miles [illegible] Mexican Railway [illegible] grants the privilege of building a road from the City of Mexico to the Pacific coast at the port of Manzanillo passing through the [illegible] Morelia [illegible] subsidy of seven thousand [illegible] per kilometre, equivalent to [illegible] per mile. [illegible] The same company is also granted the right to build a road from [illegible] mention [illegible] the state of [illegible] northward through the cities of Celaya, San Luis Potosi, Saltillo and Monterey to a convenient point on the Texas frontier between Laredo and Eagle Pass on the Rio Grande where a connection is expected with the International & Great Northern railroad, now constructing the extension of its lines south of San Antonio and with a probable branch from the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio Railroad in its extension to El Paso for a connection with the Southern Pacific, Mexican Central, Sonora and other roads. The subsidy to this line is fixed at $6500 per kilometre. All subsidies to this company are payable from customs receipts in a manner similar to that provided in the case of the Mexican Central Company, but because the lines are narrow gauge only to the extent of 4 per cent thereof.

THE INDIANA CAMPAIGN.

What Both Parties are Doing and Saying of Each Other—A Man who don't Hunt Bumble Bees with a Brass Band.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Chicago, Oct. 7.—[illegible] Conkling, who have all come to lend their aid to insure fair play. The Fowler interview with Gen. Grant has produced a very decided impression and has done much to open the eyes of [illegible] the uncertain voters as to what may be expected from Hancock in case he should land in the White House. His determined adherence to the democracy when he was in the south, his forgetfulness of his fealty to his commanding general and to the government and his anxiety to serve the unsubdued rebels of Louisiana by the most unworthy methods were so laid bare by Gen. Grant's interview that everybody comprehends them at a glance and Hancock himself seems dazed by the exposure and unwilling to enter on the difficult task of attempting to vindicate himself before the people.

The Chicago Tribune's Indianapolis special says the democrats claim as follows: Senator McDonald said that they would carry the state and have a good working majority in the legislature. Senator Voorhees fixed the plurality between 5000 and 14,000. Gov. Hendricks said it would not fall short of 11,000, and Judge Scott of the supreme court ventured the opinion that whatever Landers' majority was, Hancock's would be double as much. Franz Sigel states that it is uncertain. The vote is so large that he could give no estimate, but he thought Landers might go through. Landers expressed the opinion that Hancock's election depends upon his own; unless too much money is used against him the state ticket will be elected by a good majority. If I am defeated the party will make no effort to save the state for Hancock. It would be foolish to attempt it. Wm. H. English was very quiet and had no opinion to express, but to a reporter he said: "Since I have been chairman of the state committee I have not received a letter that gave me any assurance of a democratic victory in Indiana." With this remarkable answer the reporter went to Senator Conkling, who is reported to have replied: "If Wm. H. English told you that he has every assurance and is confident that the state will go democratic [illegible] He is a man who never hunts bumblebees with a brass band, and what he told you [illegible] Indiana. His remark was made to discourage, and I shall look for him to carry the state. It is not likely that Senator Conkling said anything of the kind. [illegible] English's answer credited, although it is known that his figures, based on a poll of the state, showed a democratic shortage of 4000. The above interviews are of importance only because they prove that the democrats have no figures on which they can base a majority, hence no two managers agree in their estimated majority. It is very evident, however, that they are badly rattled. At the republican headquarters the managers are very happy and confident. All are at work and nothing seems to go wrong. "The drift is with us," said Col. Dudley to a Tribune representative. "We are certain to elect Porter." Telegrams have been sent from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington asserting democratic repeaters and roughs went there intending to vote, and Porter has received letters from a number of persons several in Cincinnati, warning him that the democrats are intending to buy negroes on Tuesday, but I think the republicans are getting ready to meet all these schemes and unless they get the better of us in large democratic counties, we shall come out all right. Senator Conkling remarked that all the reports he had received since entering the state were very flattering and he had large hopes of a republican victory. A republican bet $1000 on Porter's election last night. He could get no odds. Gen. Lew Wallace, governor of New Mexico, arrived in the city to-day and will make a few speeches in the southern part of the state. Secretary Thompson spent to-day in Indianapolis. Yesterday he attended an eastern Indiana rally at Kingston where he, Postmaster General Maynard and P. B. S. Pinchback all spoke.

The Baron again on his Travels.

Baron Munchausen is about to publish a new book. At all events we judge so from certain stories about the Columbia river bar which we find in eastern journals and which can only be excerpts from advance sheets of a new volume by this most famous of all travelers. We take this from the Philadelphia Times:

ALONG THE COLUMBIA.

Up the River from the Cascades in a Small Boat—A Visit to the Different Sawmills and Tie Camps—The Scenery Viewed from the Bluffs.

Upper Columbia River, Oct. [illegible], 1880.

Having frequently gazed upon the picturesque and imposing scenery of the Upper Columbia unrivaled in the continuous panoramic view afforded from a standpoint on the deck of the palatial steamers of the O. R. & N. Co's line, the writer very naturally concluded that but little if any of the wondrous beauty of this locality remained to be seen. But after making a more thorough exploration of the shore lines between the Lower Cascades and Hood river, traveling in small boats and stopping at intervals to ascend the high bluffs and explore the country from one to three miles back from the river's bank, he can only say to those admirers of nature's charms who have not thus visited this section that a rare treat indeed awaits them. Even the pictured rocks and massive columns of basalt uprising from the deep when seen from a different angle or viewed from the summit of the mountain [illegible] the majestic river [illegible] with the added charms of many wild and picturesque features of great diversity and beauty to be seen only from the greater elevations, which with the [illegible] of the beautiful valleys of Hood river and White Salmon, are but seldom explored.

Along this section of the Columbia is the [illegible] lumbering [illegible] upper country. The mills [illegible] to supply the demand for lumber while the tie and cordwood camps are in full blast with need of large additions to their forces to enable them to keep pace with the demand [illegible]. There is also a lack of brown and small steamers for transporting lumber [illegible] thus affording fine opportunities for the investment of small sums by those who understand sufficient of navigation to run their own craft. Here are some few excellent [illegible] timber [illegible] one to five miles back from the river, much of which can only be made available by some improved method of transportation to the river, which owing to the rugged nature of the intervening hills will require no small display of ingenuity as well as engineering skill. To one possessing the requisites here awaits an opportunity to step in and secure excellent timbered lands which if made available will yield to their possessor a handsome return. At the mill of William Grant, known as the Cascade Mill Co., located five miles above the Cascades, was found a substantially constructed flume extending from the mill to the river, the mill location being one mile back from the Columbia. This is the largest and most complete mill in this section. Its cutting capacity is from twenty five to thirty thousand feet per day. Over fifty men are employed in the mill and logging camp of the company. They are now engaged in cutting 50,000 ties, of which number they have already cut over one half. Mr. Phelps, the efficient and energetic superintendent, is possessor of a fine tract of timber, consisting of over 10,000,000 feet, which he contemplates making available by constructing a shute, extending two miles, to the mill. Directly opposite, located on the river's bank on the Oregon side, is the mill of Messrs. Cates & Frizzell, which has capacity for cutting about 20,000 feet per day, now engaged on a contract of 75,000 feet for the new machine shop of the O. R. & N. Co. at The Dalles. Twenty men are employed in the mill and logging camp. This is also a most excellent location for boat building. Copeland & Roberts have just launched a very substantially built scow which they have named the "General J. A. Garfield." Its dimensions are: length 75 feet, beam 22 feet, carrying capacity 5,000 feet of lumber. It cost $1,200 and will be the first schooner rigged scow attempted on the Upper Columbia. In the same yard is also another substantially built scow nearly ready to launch. Its length is 110 feet, with 28 feet beam, carrying capacity 100,000 feet of lumber. John A. Gressin, builder, for W. Childers, of Shell Rock Landing. Three miles further up the river brings us to Collins' Landing, the oldest and most extensive cordwood camp on the Upper Columbia. Mr. C. has resided here since 1862, and in 1866 constructed the first flume on the upper river. His present flume is three miles long. From 20 to 30 men are employed by Mr. C., who is now averaging over 5000 cords of wood per annum. Mr. Collins has a finely improved farm and comfortable home a short distance below the landing, near Wind river and mountain, where the scenery and country surrounding are most charming. Here are located the hot sulphur springs which at no far distant day will become famous for their healing properties. There are also several small lakes in the immediate vicinity, which, with their outlets, afford splendid trouting. Three miles further up, or 15 miles above the Cascades, is Weidler's mill, at present operated by Messrs. Davis & Smyth. This is one of the most complete mills in the upper country. With Harry Davis manipulating the circulars, it is doing some splendid cutting. Messrs. Weidler & Ordway, of Portland, own extensive timbered tracts near the Little White Salmon river, where they are now extensively engaged in getting out ties, running the largest camp on the river, employing 60 men under the general management of Mr. A. P[illegible]. The ties are [illegible] two or three miles back from the Columbia upon either bank of a steep ravine, where it was the Little White Salmon river [illegible] over and around huge boulders forming an endless chain of cascades and falls, some of which are from 10 to 12 feet in height and extremely beautiful. Three shutes extend down these precipitous banks to the river, where the ties are driven to the Columbia. The longest of these shutes is 1,320 feet, and although supplied with several brakes, the ties [illegible] but fifteen seconds from the time it is launched until it dashes into the river below. [illegible] 30th ult. over 3000 ties had been [illegible] of which number [illegible] were in the river, from which obstructions were being removed by blasting [illegible] preparation was making for expeditious driving. 700 ties are made daily while the deliveries into the river [illegible] at the rate of 1000 per day.

THE NORTHWEST

Western Oregon.

The pump factory at Oregon City has turned out hundreds of pumps during the past year.

A few days ago five threshing machines were to be seen at work within a radius of four miles at Springwater, Clackamas county. When one remembers that only a short time ago a threshing machine was a curiosity there some idea can be formed of the improvements that have been made.

Enterprise: Robert Birnie and niece were visiting at Mrs. Dr. Barclay's last Monday. Mr. Birnie came to Oregon before 1830 and is consequently one of the oldest settlers now in Oregon, and probably knows more of its early history than any man living. His memory is wonderful. He was the first white man to land at Cathlamet. When he was 15 years of age he was sent to California by the Hudson Bay Company as clerk in the store they had just opened there. This was in 1841. He afterwards returned to Oregon and lived in Butteville and in Champoeg, which were lively places in early times. Recently Mr. Birnie has been living in San Francisco, and will return again in a few days by way of the Sound, where he will visit the few old friends and relatives who are still alive.

Washington Territory.

The barrel factory at Puyallup employs 30 white men and about the same number of Chinese.

Six steam threshers, averaging a hundred sacks of grain each a day, are busy at work on the flats about La Conner.

Chas. Coppin will build a house on his farm near Lake Washington, two stories high in the main structure, the width and length of which will be 18x24 feet and the addition will be 14x18 feet. It will have eight rooms besides conservatory, halls, closets, etc., and will be convenient, comfortable and handsome.

NOTES ON THE CAMPAIGN.

The independent vote of the state of New York—that is, the vote not distinctly partisan, but which is cast according to the individual views taken of the political and financial situation—numbers from 30,000 to 50,000. It is believed now that most of it will go for Garfield, on the ground that the present condition of the country, both politically and financially, is satisfactory, and that there is no occasion to disturb or change it. Mr Tilden got almost the whole of this vote in 1876, and it enabled him to carry New York. There are many signs of strong reluctance on the part of business men to change the ruling regime at present, and the democratic tendency toward free trade, tariff for revenue only, and all that, is undoubtedly damaging their prospects in New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana. The city of New York is, however, strongly for free trade, but it always gives a democratic majority anyhow; while the state of New York, outside of the metropolis, has large industries which incline it as strongly toward protection. It is apparent that the tariff question is making considerable figure in the canvass. Democrats in New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania, in New York (outside of the city), and in the manufacturing districts of Indiana and Ohio, are committed to protection, but for the purposes of the present argument they labor under the disadvantage of being a minority of their party.

Advices from Washington are to the effect that the southern claim agents there, who were so enthusiastic over Hancock's nomination, are much less so since his letter was published in regard to southern claims. It is understood that this letter from Gen. Hancock was obtained through the importunity of Gen. W. B. Franklin, who, as superintendent of the Colt's arms company, has large associations with business men, and who told him that there would be no possible hope of New York, New Jersey or Connecticut unless he took most decided ground against the pending claims. Many politicians tried hard to induce Hancock to ignore this advice, on account of the south; but Franklin persisted, till, with such help as he could summon, Hancock yielded. The argument that it was necessary to keep quiet on account of the south was answered by the declaration that, whether the south liked it or not, every southern democrat would vote for Hancock, and it was a case in which sentiment at the north alone should be consulted and heeded. It is possible, however, that contingencies may arise under which this declaration by Gen. Hancock against southern claims may return to plague him. It is well known that the indifference of southern men toward Mr. Tilden, at the time of the electoral count, growing out of his similar letter, was the chief reason why the south did not stand resolutely by him at the critical time.

As the October elections in Ohio and Indiana approach there is an increase of nervousness among the leaders and managers of both parties, which is noticeable through the telegraphic reports even at this great distance. It is probable that Indiana will be very close. The bulletins from both sides justify that belief. It is evident that neither party is confident. Charges and counter-charges of fraud in the importation of votes and the corrupt use of money are numerous. In 1876 the Tilden plan was to throw into the state three or four days before the election a vast sum of money, to be used systematically in every county to buy votes. And this was done. It is now charged that this plan is to be repeated, to the extent of securing about 5000 votes, believed to be still necessary to democratic success; and on the other hand it is charged that this is also the republican purpose. It is not likely that either party will stand much upon scruples and thereby omit anything in its power to do. In Ohio the republicans ought to have 10,000 majority. Democrats are making pretensions of carrying the state. But there is going to be the fullest vote ever polled, and the republicans have never yet lost Ohio on a full vote. Should Indiana go democratic and Ohio republican next month, the contest will be remitted to New York and to November. The harmony of all the republican elements of New York, the control of the state administration by them, and the inclination of the great independent vote of that state to go for Garfield, are circumstances which give the republicans great hope of New York. It is now generally admitted that the result will depend on the vote of the empire state.

In the southern states there will be no elections in fact. Nowhere will democratic ascendency be contested, and it is probable that in several of the states no votes will be thrown for republican electors. The active and vigorous organization which would be necessary for republican success will not be permitted. In ten states votes opposed to the dominant party can neither be freely cast nor honestly counted. There has been so much experience on this point that the effort is given up. Hence while the southern states, taken as a whole, would be on a fair vote and honest count about equally divided between the parties, all their electoral votes will go one way without a contest, and the popular returns will show a majority of a million or more for the democratic electoral tickets; though there is no one so dull as not to know that on a fair vote and honest count in all the southern states, the popular vote would be about evenly divided, the republicans carrying about one half the states and the democrats carrying the other half. This iniquity if not soon righted, will yet overthrow the democratic party as utterly as did its adhesion to the iniquity of slavery years ago.

AMERICAN INFLUENCE ABROAD.

It is a matter worth the notice of those who take interest in the industrial progress of our country that American products and manufactures are now found in nearly all quarters of the globe. A short time ago an American reaper took the first prize in a trial on the fields of Bulgaria. A New York firm is named which is shipping brush and broom making machines to the holy land, where American colonists at the foot of Mount Carmel are putting them in operation. An American watch has just been awarded the highest premium at the Australian fair at Melbourne. Europe does its weighing chiefly on American made scales. American elevators have been introduced in Paris hotels, and American palace cars are in use in England in spite of English prejudice, and will soon be used likewise in France. Our breadstuffs are sold in every market of the hemisphere, and special fleets of steamers convey live American beef to English markets. These are only a few of the facts which may be cited in illustration of the recent material development of America abroad. Only a few years ago pork and cotton were the only staple products which Europe largely bought of us; now there is a large trade in nearly every article of food produced or machinery invented in America. And it is interesting to note that our influence abroad is not confined wholly to trade. Of late years Americans have entered largely into the political and social life of the old world. We have furnished China and Egypt with officers of highest rank. Our statesmen won reputation in the Geneva and international conferences and amid the excitement of the great war between France and Germany. Frequent intermarriages of Americans with French and English families have added to the social importance of the American colonies in the principal capitals of Europe. American actors and plays have commanded the commendation of London audiences and critics. The tour of America has become almost a part of the English and French education of to-day, and our shores are now visited by thousands where only one foreigner came a generation ago. The New York Tribune, in commenting on facts of this character, truly says that they indicate not merely physical but mental growth, and remind one that we are yearly increasing, not only in the wealth which industry commands everywhere, but also in that refinement and culture which come with education, and without which not even the most prosperous nations can become influential. What high position America will shortly take, if her present rate of development is continued, no one can foresee. The rapid development of the past has been almost wholly since the war which abolished slavery and established our right to boast of being a free and enlightened republic.

If the 100 citizens of Yamhill who send a petition to the legislature asking that body to grant to the Oregonian railway the public levee in Portland and the right to appropriate Front street were acquainted with the facts they would not assert that this was their "fight for cheap transportation"—as if there were no other way to get cheap transportation but by this outrage on the city of Portland. The fact is, Yamhill does not want this railroad more eagerly than Portland does; and yet Portland does not want its property seized by this company, or any other. Nor will this railway be shut out from Portland if this granted property be not taken for its use. The company can easily buy a dozen good sites on the river front for depot purposes, at a reasonable figure. And whether this company gets what it is trying to seize, or not, its charges to the people of Yamhill and other counties will not be a penny less. It is not a "fight for cheap transportation" at all. It is simply an effort on the part of the company to get valuable property without paying for it. There are people who in one breath denounce corporations, and in the next breath insist that corportions should have all that their rapacity moves them to claim. This case is similar to that witnessed at San Francisco, when the Central Pacific company attempted to seize the water front of that city. But San Francisco found means to defeat that attempt, and Portland will find means to defeat this one, let the legislature do what it will.

☞A novel political device has been put in operation by the democratic executive committee at Huntsville, Ala., in the eighth congressional district, now represented by Mr Lowe, the greenbacker. It is a practical revival of the Ku Klux organization, though as yet without the shot gun attachment. Its details are simple, and contain much to recommend it to other southern communities, which are afraid of the more vigorous Mississippi plan on account of its effect upon the north. These details are set forth in a printed circular, which is not, however, designed for general circulation. First, all white men who are not already members of some Hancock and English club are to be enrolled, and each man is to be visited by a committee of one and sought to join a club. If he declines, a committee of three is next to try its persuasive powers upon him. Second, all the colored voters in the district are to be enrolled, the list giving the names of their employers, and stating whether they are tenants or laborers. These colored men are then to be visited and asked to vote for Hancock and English. If they refuse they are to be asked to abstain from voting at all, and if they assent to this, the non-voting whites, that is, young men under age, are to be detailed to watch and report them. If they do not assent to it, measures still more "persuasive" are to be employed. In this way it is expected that a practically "unanimous" vote will be obtained.

It has been claimed that 2000 men were in line at the democratic parade here last Monday night. This was according to the Alabama method of counting. A business man on First street who counted the actual number in line as the procession went by made the total [illegible]. Several others counted about the same number, and none made out more than 500. There is a good deal of democratic blowing in Multnomah, but the county is going to give a strong republican majority, as usual. It never failed yet in a presidential year. Outside of Multnomah, the republican majority in the state will reach 800, and may go to 1000.

It is asserted that there is a combination of "big speculators" in New York who make money by heavy gambling speculations, to aid the democrats, in the expectation that democratic success in November would break the market down, while a wild inflation would follow the inauguration of Hancock and cause violent fluctuations in prices, out of which these "operators" would make large gains. Much of the money which is being sent into Indiana and Ohio to aid the democrats is said to come from this quarter; and the statement is plausible enough.

The gross and net revenues of the Chicago postoffice exceed those of any other office in the country except New York. Of the leading offices the gross revenue is as follows: New York, $3,447,339; Chicago, $1,245,984; Philadelphia, $1,151,206; Boston $1,105,966; St. Louis, $596,655; Cincinnati, $500,310; San Francisco, $438,541; Baltimore, $405,704. The cities next in the list for amount of postoffice business are Pittsburg, Brooklyn, New Orleans, Cleveland and Detroit, the postal revenue in each being about $225,000.

The present great mission of the republican party is to maintain and control the government until every elector "shall vote as he pleases and have his vote counted as he cast it." Until this principle is firmly established there can be no free government. Those who antagonize this underlying principle, whatever may be their professions or however honest may be their intentions, are aiding in a conspiracy to assassinate liberty and to destroy a government of the people, by the people, for the people.

Barnum, from Connecticut, who watched the Indiana election from New York four years ago and telegraphed his assistants in Indiana to draw for all the "mules" they required, is in Indiana in person this time, taking this precaution so that there may be no revelations through cipher dispatches.

The bummers' bill to amend the city charter of Portland, which may otherwise be called the bill for the relief of certain Portland bummers, has been passed to engrossment in the house. The bummers are not alone watching its progress. Respectable people of the city are watching it too.

The literary publications are making a great fuss over the discovery that one stanza of a recent poem by Mr Aldrich was stolen from Swinburne. Now let them go back further and find the name of the gentleman from whom Swinburne "conveyed."

If Gen. Hancock is elected the solid south will be president. And for vice-president we shall have fiat fanaticism. These two are the controlling forces in the democratic party.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 8, 1880.

CITY.

ARM MANGLED.—A German named Eder, who is employed by the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company, met with a most shocking accident yesterday afternoon. Eder was engaged in working a machine called a "shaper," when by some means his left hand got caught in the machinery. Before he could extricate himself the limb was most terribly mangled nearly to the elbow. Eder was taken at once to the office of Drs. Chapman & Wells, who, after making an examination of the lacerated limb, concluded not to amputate it. The limb was dressed and the injured man conveyed to his home in South Portland. By careful treatment the surgeons are in hopes that the mangled limb can be saved without amputation.

OREGON WOOL AHEAD.—The samples of wool sent to the International exhibition of sheep wool, and wool products, held at Philadelphia, by Mr. H. D. Sanborn, member of the committee of co-operation for Oregon, received the 1st prize for both Merino and long wool. Samples of Merino were from flocks of Messrs. D. M. Guthrie, of Dallas, Thomas Cross of Salem, and Robert Hewitt of Umatilla county. The samples of Cotswold were from flocks of Messrs. Guthrie and S. G. Reed. Samples of wool were on exhibition from France and Australia as well as this country. The fact that Oregon wool took the 1st premium at such a general exhibit speaks well for our wools.

FULL PARDONS.—Gov. Thayer has recently granted full pardons restoring the respective parties to all privileges heretofore granted them under the laws of this state, viz: Steve A. Bailey, convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon, in Coos county, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs. Remission granted of fine and costs, also that of Wm. [illegible] McCoy, convicted of larceny in Wasco county, sentenced to one year's imprisonment, which in turn was commuted to payment of $100, fine and costs, and full pardon granted, under date of Oct. 5, 1880.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.—Last night about 9 o'clock Wong Foon, otherwise known as Ah Jim, became engaged in a quarrel with a fellow countryman in the store of Hop Chung & Co. The quarrel led to blows and Jim struck his assailant a heavy blow over the head with a pistol, or some other iron substance. The affray was witnessed only by Chinamen, who refuse to give any particulars. Jim was arrested and is confined in the city jail. The injuries to the wounded man are severe and may prove fatal.

MORE INDIAN PUPILS.—Capt. Wilkinson expects to start next week for the Upper Columbia country to gather up more Indian youth for his school at Forest Grove. He can take care of a number more, and the experiment is to be carefully and patiently tested. President Hayes expressed great interest in the school while at Forest Grove the other day, and congratulated Capt. Wilkinson on the zeal he manifests in the undertaking, as well as the energy he is showing in it.

MACHINERY.—Smith Bros. & Watson are at work on an engine and boiler for a transfer boat which is to be operated at Ainsworth. It will be a duplicate of machinery on the [illegible] Queen. The same firm is making a large pump, 900,000 gallons capacity, for the Cascades locks and engine to operate same. The pump is similar to the one at the dry dock, San Francisco.

TO REMOVE THE RAILING.—At the last meeting of the common council, the superintendent of streets was directed to remove the railing around the entrance to cellar on Columbia street under the building owned by J. Mancke; also, the railing around entrance to cellar at Yamhill and Second streets, as obstructions to travel.

JUDGE WILLIAMS' APPOINTMENTS.—Judge Williams will speak in this city on Saturday evening, and in Oregon City on Monday evening at half past seven. For better accommodation of the people of the last named place the time has been changed from Monday afternoon to evening.

THE "QUICKSILVER."—In yesterday's OREGONIAN, an intelligent reporter (our compositors never make a mistake) wrote instead of the steamer Quickstep, the name Quicksilver. When taken to task by the city editor, he replied "well I thought she was built to catch Gold Dust."

CLUB ORGANIZED.—A Garfield and Arthur club has recently been organized at Oswego. The club meets regularly every Saturday evening. By special invitation from the club, Rev. H. Y. Thompson will address them to-morrow (Saturday) evening.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The following proceedings of the common council were crowded out Thursday morning, owing to pressure on the columns:

STREET EXTENSIONS.

Resolution directing the city surveyor to survey extension of the following streets, and to file with [illegible] plats thereof, showing particular tracts of land to be appropriated.

[illegible] street from the compromise line between the land claims of John H. Couch and A. N. King, to west line of city.

[illegible] street from east line of N. Nineteenth street to west boundary line of city.

[illegible] street from the compromise lines between land claims of John H. Couch and A. N. King to west boundary line of city.

[illegible] street from the compromise line between land claims of John H. Couch and A. N. King to the west boundary line of city.

IMPROVEMENTS OF STREETS.

Resolutions instructing the auditor to give notice of the purpose of the committee to improve the following streets:

[illegible] street between Front and First, by bringing the same to grade with crushed stone screened, and by laying stone crosswalks.

North Front street from north line of G to south line of N, by grading and planking the roadway 20 feet in width in the center, and by laying sidewalks on west side of street, and crosswalks on both sides.

[illegible] from the center line of Thirteenth to the center line of North Nineteenth street, by grading and laying sidewalks and crosswalks.

[illegible] and North Front streets from south line of [illegible] to north line of F, by bringing the same to grade with crushed stone screened, and by laying crosswalks.

North Eleventh street from center line of B to south line of G, by macadamizing the roadway full width, and laying crosswalks and box gutters.

[illegible] and South Third streets from south line of [illegible] to south line of Sheridan, by grading, laying sidewalks and crosswalks and macadamizing the roadway full width.

North Fifteenth street from north line of B to the north line of G, by grading and laying sidewalk and crosswalks.

[illegible] from center line of N. Front to east line of N. Fifteenth, by grading and laying sidewalks and crosswalks, and constructing a bridge across [illegible] similar to the bridge recently constructed at Fifteenth street.

[illegible] from center line of N. Tenth to center line of N. Fifteenth, by laying sidewalks and crosswalks on north side of street, and the necessary [illegible].

Resolution adopted Sept. 22, 1880, directing notice given of the proposed improvement of [illegible] street from G to Q, was rescinded.

CHANGE OF GRADE.

Notice given of the purpose of the council to change and establish the grades on the following streets:

North Front street at G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, [illegible] streets from present grade to 22.5 feet above the base of grades.

[illegible] and Eleventh streets from 190 feet to 192 feet above the base of grades.

APPOINTMENT OF VIEWERS.

[illegible] Allen, F. Opitz and Sam. Lowenstein were appointed viewers of the proposed extension of [illegible] street from its present eastern terminus to low water mark in the Willamette river, and [illegible] street from Wood to the south boundary line of the city; to meet at the office of the auditor [illegible] on Saturday, Oct. 16, 1880, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to make an assessment of damages and benefits occasioned by such extension.

SIGNAL SERVICE WEATHER REPORT.

For the week ending Wednesday, Oct. 6, 1880:

Highest barometer, 30.200 on Saturday, 2d; lowest barometer, 29.926, on Sunday, 3d.

Ladies, if you wish a real nice and fine [illegible] shoe, ask for J. N. SMITH'S goods.

PORTLAND'S GREAT FAIR.

OPENING NIGHT.

The Display Far Advanced and Almost Complete—Great Improvement to every Department Over Last Year.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY TO VISIT THE PAVILION THIS EVENING.

At 7 o'clock last night the Portland Mechanics' Fair was [illegible] annual exhibit [illegible] with old ones [illegible] ideas [illegible] at the fair [illegible] with much more taste [illegible] pleasing and varied [illegible] to individual exhibitors, and more space to visitors, and a classification of all exhibits. With all its spacious addition at either side, these desiderata could not have been accomplished, and the wisdom of the directors in enlarging the pavilion are apparent to every visitor.

The main floor contains the choicest selections from the Portland [illegible] houses and [illegible] which produce small wares. The display [illegible] of merchandise [illegible] ornamental, and is a fair index of the commercial greatness of the city. The individual exhibits will be briefly described as the fair progresses.

The display in the machinery department is the largest and most varied in its line ever shown in Oregon, except possibly the exhibit at the state fair in 1878. The space of fifty by one hundred feet is taken up with reapers, mowers, separators, plows, wagons, carriages, [illegible] pumps, engines, and numerous smaller agricultural and mechanical implements. The boiler and engine which furnish the motive power are located in the extreme northeast corner of the pavilion. A line of shafting runs the entire length of the hall, and much of the machinery is connected with it.

The north gallery is devoted to the display of furniture, carpets, tapestry, etc., in which line exhibitors have outdone even last year's creditable showing. The south and west galleries have very much the same class of exhibits as last year, while in the northeast and southeast corners is the ladies' handiwork. This department is notably finer than last year and contains scores of beautiful parlor and boudoir ornaments wrought by deft fingers. There is a pleasing absence of frivolous articles. The art gallery, though incomplete last night, will be filled to-day. The 21st infantry band was present and rendered a most enjoyable programme.

The Floral Department.

Entering this department from the main hall by the broad middle doorway a scene of sylvan beauty combined with exquisite taste and skill in arrangement and detail meets the eye. At a loss which way to turn amid so much to admire we pause for a moment attracted by the gleeful ripple of waters, turn to the left where, occupying the northeast corner, is a grotto which at first glance seems a fragmentary ruin of an ancient castle; at the second it recalls tales of ancient hermitages situated deep in woody recesses. In reality it is a huge pile of moist stone placed in fantastic shape and intersected by cavernous galleries which seemingly lead into unknown depths. From crevices formed by the uneven surface ferns, mosses, lichens and maiden's hair simulate a growth as luxuriant as if placed in their favorite nooks by the great hand of nature. From the summit of this pile a waterfall descends, the fall broken three times by the roughness of the way until it finally plunges with noisy precipitancy into the stone basin prepared for its reception. Turning from the contemplation of this grotto, the real art in the construction and adornment of which is its close following of nature, and glancing down the length of the hall the scene is one of genuine beauty. Here the gardener has displayed his wonderful skill in planning. The florist following has brought the choicest foliage and flowering plants, and arranged them with artistic care. Spring with its green leaves and fresh opening buds is here represented; summer with its full blown blossoms and autumn with its many hued leaves finds place close at hand, and winter, unrepresented except by the occasional patter of the raindrops upon the windows, has no place in the fairy scene. Rustic seats are placed at convenient intervals, arbors adorned with ivy and hanging plants add variety, while in unexpected places, among the foliage, animals, that at first glance show no acquaintance with the taxidermist appear. The light to this department during the day is furnished by sky windows, and in the evening the fine effect is greatly heightened by the full blaze of numerous gas jets. The walks here are spacious and even, the designs of the flower beds unique and each unlike the other, and the general verdict is that the managers of the fair have doubly enhanced the beauty of the display by the addition of this department.

Fair Notes.

President and Mrs. Hayes, and the entire party, will visit the pavilion at half-past seven this evening, and will remain an hour.

Yesterday's Astorian says: "Astoria would just about empty herself into the mechanics' fair at Portland, next week, figuratively speaking, however there has been no arrangements for special rates of fare, as upon other times, to the metropolis on this auspicious occasion. How's that, Bro. Dekum?" We are informed by the managers of the fair that every effort was made to secure excursion rates but without success.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.

The 21st regimental band will render the following programme at the pavilion this evening:

PART I.

March, Souvenir .... Eickoff
Overture, L'Espoir De L'Alsace .... Hermann
Waltz, Fleur D' Alsace .... Stelzer
The "What is it?" serio-comic jamboree, from Lieutner's overture.

PART II.

The Olden Times, grand medley of old melodies by E. Beyer.
Schottische, Amee .... Ringleben
Hippodrome, Andante and Waltz .... Ringleben

PART III.

Red Hot, medley .... Beyer
Andante, God in Mercy .... White
Selection, Lily of Killarney, from Benedict's Opera, by Hellicke.
Galop, Incantation .... Rollinson

This programme was made out yesterday and owing to the presence of the presidential party a few patriotic selections will precede it.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

Trip Down the River from The Dalles—Reception by School Children at Vancouver.

The passage of the presidential party down the river yesterday was accomplished in ten hours, including a wait of two hours at the Lower Cascades. The steamer Harvest Queen made a special trip to carry the party from The Dalles to the Upper Cascades, but as her staterooms were few most of the gentlemen "bunked" in the Harvest Queen and were taken on board the special boat at Hood River. Rain commenced to fall shortly after arrival at the Cascades and heavy clouds obscured the finer views below that point. At Vancouver several hundred people were assembled on the wharf, and a large party of children from the public and private schools of the city and Sisters' orphanage were drawn up in line to receive the president. Gen. Howard escorting Mrs. Hayes and the President escorting Mrs. Howard, passed ashore and were greeted with rousing cheers. Mr. Fletcher then delivered a brief address and was followed by Master Nicholas [illegible], a schoolboy about eighteen years old. The president replied that receptions similar to this had been among the most frequent and most pleasant incidents of his trip. He talked in a chatty way for five minutes, and after shaking the hands of all the little ones in easy reach, re-embarked on the Wide West. Mrs. Mitchell, the president's niece and Rutherford Hayes jr., remained at Vancouver and will come over to this city to-night. The passage on to Portland was without incident. The boat arrived shortly before 5 o'clock and the party went at once to the Esmond.

PREPARATIONS AT ASTORIA.

On Wednesday a meeting of the citizens' committee, appointed to make arrangements for the reception of President Hayes and party, was held at Astoria, at which the following proceedings were had:

On motion Mr. J. W. Robb was chosen secretary of the committee.

On motion a plan was adopted providing for invitations to the officers of Forts Canby and Stevens to be present; also for the Astoria fire department and all societies and associations, the public schools of Astoria, and citizens generally, to participate in the exercises, to consist of a procession, reception, etc.

On motion Capt. J. H. D. Gray was chosen marshal.

On motion it was ordered that the committee prepare an arch, the banner over the street near the landing, to bear this inscription:

Welcome to the President.
Welcome to the Secretary of War.
Welcome to the General of the Army.
Welcome to the Presidential Party.
And above all
Welcome to Mrs Hayes.

On motion a committee of finance was appointed consisting of Messrs. Peter Runey, C. J. Trenchard, E. C. Holden, W. B. Adair, Peter Wilhelm, C. H. Stockton.

On motion the mayor of the city was appointed to deliver an address of welcome.

On motion Hon. W. D. Hare, Rev. A. T. Perkins and Hon. D. K. Warren were appointed a committee to arrange for the appearance of the schools of the city in the proposed parade.

On motion the chairman was instructed to inform Major Throckmorton, Major Graham and Chief Engineer A. W. Berry of the action of this meeting and invite their co-operation.

On motion the committee adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

HOW THE PRESIDENT SPENT SUNDAY.

Visit to the Hospital at Vancouver Post—Attendance at the Methodist Church—Ride in the Afternoon—Reception in the Evening.

The reception of President Hayes and his party at Vancouver, and the Sunday spent quietly at the barracks, form one of the pleasantest experiences of the party on this coast. Many hundred people were assembled at the government dock Saturday evening to greet the party upon its arrival, and the four companies of the garrison, with the regimental band, were drawn up in waiting. General Howard's staff officers were also present in full uniform. As the president stepped ashore a national salute of honor was fired. The party walked to the quartermaster's building, where the city authorities of Vancouver, and other officials, were in waiting. W. Byron Daniels, Esq., acting mayor, welcomed the president on behalf of his fellow citizens in a most happy address, which he made the occasion for a handsome compliment to the department commander. Handshaking followed, after which the party were escorted to residences of various officers at the barracks. The president and Mrs. Hayes were entertained by Gen. Howard. Here in the evening they were waited on formally by the staff and company officers of the barracks. After breakfast the following morning the president witnessed the ceremonies of inspection and guard mounting, and with Gen. Morrow visited the post hospital. He chatted familiarly with the poor fellows lying sick here, who, as may be imagined, were delighted with his visit. At 11 o'clock the president and Mrs. Hayes with Gen and Mrs. Howard, attended the Methodist church and listened to a sermon by Rev. Mr. Banks, whom they highly complimented. At the close of the service the audience rose respectfully and waited standing till the presidential party passed out. There was not the slightest exhibition of rude curiosity such as has been reported from some other places.

The president and Mrs. Hayes lunched with Col. Mason, then proceeded to the garrison Sunday school, where about 40 children of the post gather every Sabbath. They appeared to enjoy the children's singing, especially, and joined cheerfully in their song service. At its close, while Mrs. Hayes was going to the carriage, the president went to the Indian camp close at hand, and shook hands with Sarah Winnemucca and her class of Indian children. Sarah was much affected by the president's kindness, and going to the carriage, made petition for her poor people in a trembling voice and tender manner, so that the ladies were affected to tears. The president said that he could make no promise, but that he would remember her petition, which was to have her people gathered at some one place where they could live permanently and be cared for and instructed. The party then drove some miles up the river, greatly enjoying the pleasant air and fine views. The evening was spent at the residence of General Howard, all the officers and ladies of the post with their children joining in the pleasant sociability. The evening closed by all singing in unison a few sacred songs and hymns, and so ended the day, spent with dignity and propriety.

The Edison Electric Light

Has thus far proved a failure as a practical light for family use, and the owners of gas stocks breathe more freely and see renewed dividends near at hand, but the Oregon Kidney Tea has been a success from the first, paying large dividends of restored health to all those afflicted with backache or any disease of the kidneys or urinary organs, and carrying consternation to the pockets of rival concerns with worthless nostrums to sell. Ask for Oregon Kidney Tea, and take nothing else.

To the Weak, the Worn and the Weary, the editor of the Boston Recorder says: "We can most unhesitatingly recommend the Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of iron, to all the weak, the worn and the weary, having richly experienced its benefits. It possesses all the qualities claimed for it by its proprietors."

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

No people in the world suffer as much with Dyspepsia as Americans. Although years of experience in medicine had failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy for this disease and its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Waterbrash, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, coming up of the food, low spirits, general debility, etc., yet since the introduction of GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER we believe there is no case of Dyspepsia that cannot be immediately relieved. 30,000 dozen sold last year without one case of failure reported. Go to your Druggist and get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. Two doses will relieve you. Regular size 75 cents.

LEGAL AND COMMERCIAL UNION MERCANTILE AGENCY.

We have used your Commercial Agency, also others, and take pleasure in saying we like yours as well as any we have tried, and think it equally as good as those which cost more money.
NORDYKE & MARMON CO., Detroit.

Your Agency is of great benefit to us in obtaining the standing of men at the time we wish to deal with them. We like it better than any Agency we ever belonged to.
W. N. FLINT & Co.
Wholesale Granite Dealers, Monson, Mass.

Your Agency is certainly one of the best mediums for collecting in the country. We have tried them all and pronounce yours the best.
J. M. FAHNESTOCK & Co.
Wholesale Soap Dealers, Pittsburg.

One of the strongest points in favor of this Agency, is, that our list of correspondents is composed of reliable lawyers who are under a contract. They are not a secret list, and our business is transacted openly and above board. We do not overestimate a friend, or to vent some petty malice underestimate others.

Thirty thousand business men use this Agency. We invite criticism and challenge comparison, and are in the field to stay.

Office 48, Union Block.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Seventh Annual S. S. Convention to be Held in this City—Programme.

[illegible]

The ratio of representation has been fixed at one delegate for every school, and one additional delegate for every fifty scholars or fraction thereof, i. e., a school of twenty scholars is entitled to one delegate, a school of fifty-two scholars to two, etc., etc.

The convention will be held in the Presbyterian church of Portland, Oct. 13th and 14th.

Delegates by sending their names to Wm. Wadhams, chairman of the committee on entertainment, can secure free entertainment while attending the convention, and our transportation companies we trust will grant return passes to all delegates.

As this is the centennial year of the founding of Sunday schools by Robert Raikes, may we not rely upon your prompt and efficient co-operation in our efforts to make this convention by far the most enthusiastic and valuable every held in the north-west? Yours fraternally,

REV. G. H. ATKINSON, D. D.,
REV. J. C. BAKER,
WM. WADHAMS,
J. K. GILL,
T. L. NICKLIN,
REV. I. L. ELIOT,

Business Increasing
MINVIL & CO'S.

It gives us pleasure to announce to the Ladies of the city and vicinity that, as an earnest of our determination to meet the wants of our steady patrons and others, in the midst of our rapidly increasing business, we have secured, through the efforts of W. P. Olds, Esq., while at San Francisco, the services of MADAME T. B. BUTLER, to assist MRS. MINVIL in the Cutting and Fitting Department. She holds a patent for a peculiar system, which works perfectly in the smallest details. We have also engaged three additional FIRST-CLASS TRIMMERS. Thus do we offer to the Ladies of this city and vicinity the best and most artistic combination of talent this side of San Francisco, to fill all orders for

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Review of the Merchandise and Produce Trade—Charters, etc., etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.

Bags and Bagging—Wheat bags are quiet at 8⅞@9c.

Coffee—Central American grades are quiet at 14½@15½c.

Fish—Oregon canned salmon is quiet and nominal. Canners are asking figures they cannot at present obtain. Sales of invoices afloat have been made at the equivalent of $1 18 on the river.

Rice—There have been sales of Hawaiian at 6⅛c. The consignment by the steamer is held at 6¼c. The crop is nearly all in. The only consignment known to be en route is about 2200 bags on the Lady Lampson, due here next week.

Freights—The Pharos, 2002 tons, wheat to Liverpool, prior to arrival, 62s 6d; Francis Thorpe, 1246 tons, wheat to Cork, prior to arrival, 75s. Arrivals to-day embrace Beecroft, Britania, Cambrian, Prince Hugo, Indiana and Routenbeck, all of which are supposed to be under wheat charter. The Herman Lehmkuhl, 1810 tons, just in from Hongkong, is reported chartered for wheat before arrival.

Flour—The local trade continues good. We quote brands as follows: Best city extra $5 12½; baker's extra $5@5 12½; superfine $3 50@4; interior ex $4 58@4 75; interior superfine, $3 50@4; Oregon ex $4 50@4 75; choice do, $[illegible]; Oregon superfine $3 50@4; Walla Walla ex $4 50@4 75 per bbl.

Wheat—Business on change this morning was quite lively and more transactions were reported than for any single season for a year past. Shippers and millers were both in the market, the former seeming willing to purchase almost everything that was offered, provided the asking rate was not beyond their views. Although the volume of business was unusually large, there was no excitement observable. In fact for a portion of the time trade appeared rather to drag than otherwise. Prices went as high as $1 45 for strictly choice lots. It was also reported that millers had paid $1 47½ for some choice lots, while for gilt edge parcels even a shade higher was obtained. No. 1 $1 42½@1 45, with choice milling at $1 47½; No. 2, $1 35@1 40.

Barley—The market is more active but prices are weak. Brewing is quotable at 90@95c; 75@80c; chevalier, $1 25@1 30 for choice standard bay and 85c@$1 for coast.

Oats—Holders have no desire to carry stock and refuse no reasonable offer. Humboldt, $1 15@1 30; coast, $1 10@1 15, Oregon and Washington territory, $1 15@1 25; surprise, $1 25@1 35 per ctl.

Corn—The market will range from 95c@$1 05 per ctl. for all kinds.

Rye—The range of the market is from $1 50@1 52½ per ctl.

Buckwheat—Quotable at $2@2 12½ per ctl.

Hops—From 15@20c per lb would probably cover all transactions.

Seeds—Mustard, 1½@2c for yellow and 1½@1¾ for brown; canary, 3½@4c; timothy, 9@10c; flax, 2½@3; alfalfa, 10@12c per lb.

Potatoes—Prices are easy at annexed rates: we quote river red, 50@60c; early rose, 45@50c; Cuffey Cove, $1; Tomales, 80@85c; sweet, $1 per ctl.

Onions—The poor quality of most of the arrivals of red causes a better demand for yellow; red, 65c; yellow, $1@1 12½ per ctl.

Beans—Jobbing lots as follows: Bayous, $1@1 15; butter, $1 15@1 20 for small and $1 30@1 40 for large; castor, $3 25@3 50; Lima, $5 50@7; pea, $1 15@1 24; pink, 95c@$1; red, $1; small white, $1 30@1 35; large white, $1 25 per cental.

Dried Fruits—Bigg Bros., of Winters, to-day sent in the first consignment of the new crop of raisins, consisting of 200 quarter boxes. The shipment was choice, and as there were no quarters of the old crop in the market the competition for the entire lot was rather animated. Finally the whole lot was sold to the highest bidder at $3 ℔ box; sun-dried apples, 7@8c for sliced and 6@7c for quartered, apricots, 11@[illegible]; blackberries, 12c; figs, 7@8c for pressed and 1@6 cents for unpressed; nectarines, 14@15 cents; peaches, 18@20 cts for peeled and 12½@14c for unpeeled; pears, 9@10c for sliced; plums, 13@14c for pitted and 4@5c ℔ lb for unpitted; German prunes, 11@12c; Cala raisins in lots of 250 boxes and upward are quoted as follows: Common layers, $1 25@2 25 for whole boxes; $2 50@[illegible] for halves and [illegible] 75 for eighths; London layers, $2 50 for whole boxes; $2 75 for halves; $3 for quarters and $3 75 for eighths; jobbing lots are 12½ cents higher.

Nuts—Railroad inquiry; Cala almonds, 18@20c for soft and 8@10c for hard shell; walnuts, 12@14c for Cala and 7½@9c for Chile; peanuts, 10@11c; hickory nuts, 8@10c; eastern chestnuts, 50c; filberts, 16@17c; pecan, 16@17c; Brazil nuts, 14@15c ℔ lb; cocoanuts, $7 to $8 ℔ 100.

Honey—Comb, 13@14; strained 5@6½ for dark and 7@7½c ℔ lb for white.

Beeswax—Quotable at 2[illegible]c ℔ lb.

Butter—Fancy, 42½@[illegible]; choice roll, 37½@40c ℔ lb; inferior to good, 27½; to 32½c ℔ lb; inferior to ordinary, 23@26c, inside rate for mixed lots from country stores; firkin is quotable at 27½@30c ℔ lb; pickled, 30@32½c; eastern is in fair supply; 23@25c ℔ lb will probably cover the bulk of offerings.

Cheese—The market is strong, and dealers are seriously thinking of advancing rates; some firms will not sell for less than top quotation; California, 12@14c; do in drums, 14@15c ℔ lb; eastern, 16@18c; western, 14@15c ℔ lb.

Eggs—The market is drooping, though operators do not believe that there will be any great decline in prices; California, 32@34c; Oregon, 27½@32½c; Salt Lake, 25@27½c; eastern, 24@26c.

Lime—25c.

Poultry—Turkeys, 15@18c ℔ lb for live; roosters, $4 50@5 for old, and $4 50@5 for young; hens, $6@7; broilers, $3@4, according to size; ducks, $4@5 50 ℔ doz; geese, $1 75@2 25 ℔ pair.

There is no cessation in the demand for eastern hams at 15@16½c. Cala hams, 12½@13, eastern breakfast bacon, 14½@15; Cala Shrdded bacon, [illegible] for heavy and medium, and 14½@15 for light, and extra light clear sides, 13½@13½; pork, $12@12 50 for extra prime, $15@15 50 for prime mess, $20 for mess, $21 for clear, and $22 for extra clear; pig's feet, $14@15 ℔ bbl; mess beef, $10 50 for bbls and $6@6 50 for hf bbls; extra mess beef, $11 50@12; family beef, $13 50@14 ℔ bbl; Cala smoked beef, 11½@11¾c ℔ lb; beef tongues, $8 ℔ dozen.

Lard—Eastern, 12@13½c ℔ lb for all styles and sizes of pkgs; Cala do in 10 lb cans, 10½c; 5 lb cans 11c, pails, 11½@12; Royal do, 12¾c ℔ lb.

MARK LANE REPORT

General Review for the Week—A Somewhat Stronger Market.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Mark Lane Express review of the British grain trade says: During the past week the weather has been mostly favorable for securing the remainder of outstanding grain. It may be two or three months before English wheat is in a condition favorable for threshing. This and the disappointing nature of the yield have made holders confident of the immediate future. The market closed firm, with an advance of a shilling per quarter on previous rates. The leading provincial markets were very firm at the close, partly in consequence of demand for sowing, and there was an advance in some instances of two shillings per quarter. Trade, though firm at the advanced rates, was not active, though the actual imports are smaller. Large millers aware of the large available extraneous supply, confine their operations to present needs. Foreign old winters and fine whites advanced a shilling per quarter and other sorts six pence to ten pence.

Oats were in fair demand and slightly dearer. Flour advanced 6d per sack and closed firm. [illegible] of English wheat during the past week [illegible] quarters at [illegible] per quarter against [illegible] at [illegible] per quarter during the corresponding week last year. Imports into the United Kingdom during the week ending Sept. 25th were [illegible] hundredweights of wheat and [illegible] of flour.

Wheat and Flour at Atlantic Ports.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—During eight weeks of the season, from August to [illegible] bushels of wheat and [illegible] flour was received at Atlantic ports, against [illegible] for the same period of 1879, which shows that notwithstanding the larger crop [illegible] the receipts [illegible] 364,6[illegible] bushels less than last season. The exports of wheat and flour for the same time have been 40,2[illegible] bushels, against [illegible] bushels last year. About [illegible] bushels thus far have been received at the seaboard and the exports about 9,000,000 bushels less than in 1879. This can hardly be considered a satisfactory course of business. It shows that at present prices farmers are indifferent about selling and exporters especially indifferent about buying.

Gold and Stock Company's Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.

Receipts—12,000 ctls wheat (including 75,000 ctls aboard ship), 6000 qr sks flour, 4000 sks potatoes, 5500 [illegible] eggs.

Charters—Ship Pharos, wheat, Liverpool 62s 6d, prior to arrival; Br bk Tamaya, wheat, Cork, owners' account.

Wheat—Market is not so firm. There is more inquiry from buyers and less disposition to sell on part of holders. Offerings fair. Prices gradually strengthen [illegible], owing to Liverpool advices and large amount of engaged tonnage. California extra choice milling, $1 47; good California shipping, $1 4[illegible] extra choice shipping, $1 43@1 45, California choice milling, $1 42½@1 45.

Bags—Prices unchanged; market quiet.

Hides—Market unchanged.

Salmon—We learn of a large sale, private transaction, unconfirmed; market is firm at $1 25@1 30.

Lard—Market is more firm for eastern tierces and cases, and affected by telegrams from the east; cases 13½@13[illegible].

Bacon—Market easy, prices are not materially changed.

Salt—Liverpool, $16@17; Carmen Island, $14@[illegible].

Wool—Oregon very dull; sellers anxious.

Butter—Market is much better supplied with choice California.

Eggs—Market quiet with prices against sellers. We do not feel like quoting lower prices.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.

Wheat—94⅜c for October.
Pork—$18 bid.
Lard—$8 3[illegible] bid.
Ribs—$7 6[illegible].
Short Ribs—$7 70.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.

Wheat—Good demand and sellers asking higher prices.
Flour and Wool—Quiet.
Pork—Lower.
Lard—Active and higher.
Refined Sugars—Weak.
Tea—Unsettled.
Hides—Dull and lower and quotable at 23@23½c.
Petroleum—Dull.

LONDON, Oct. 7.

Floating Cargoes of wheat stiff.
Cargoes on passage and for shipment, stiff.
Liverpool spot wheat strong.
Wheat afloat, 1,300,000 qrs.

Home Produce Market.

FLOUR—There is some little inquiry for export but not sufficient to create any activity or to stiffen rates, which are the same as last week. Quotations: $4 75 for standard; $4 50 good brands and $4@4 25 for fair.

WHEAT—Market inactive and quotations more or less nominal. Valley, $1 35; eastern, $1 30@1 32½.

OATS—There is a limited consumptive demand at the following quotations: Milling, $1 25@1 30 per ctl; feed, $1 10@1 20.

WOOL—There is no movement in wool. Quotations: Valley, 20@25c; Umpqua, 25@27½c; Eastern Oregon, 15@22½c; extra lots bring more.

HAY—The supply is still very light and demand good. An extra lot would bring an advance in quotations: Baled timothy, $18; jobbing, $20.

MILL FEED—The demand is light and mills producing heavily. Quotations: Middlings, $20@22½; shorts, $2[illegible]; chop feed, $20@25; bran, $14@15.

CURED MEATS—The market is very strong but slow owing to non-delivery. Quotations: Hams Oregon sugar cured, 14@16; eastern, 16½@17½; bacon, 12½@14; shoulders, 10@11.

LARD—Market steady at 12@12c in kegs, 13@14 in tins and 13½@14½c in pails.

CHICKENS—Spring, $2@3 according to size; grown, $3@4.

DRIED APPLES—More plentiful. Sun dried, 9@10c; Plummer dried in good supply at 11@12c.

DRIED PLUMS—Dull; with pits, 6c; pitless, 12@14c for sun dried; 16@18c for machine plums.

POTATOES—In limited demand 80@90c ℔ 100 lbs.

HIDES—Market firm at 16 for first-class dry; 7@8c for green; culls, ⅓ off.

BUTTER—In good demand and scarce. Quotations: Fancy 32½c; good to choice 27½@30c; fair 25c; other grades what they will bring. In bulk 18@22½c; in brine 18@25c.

ONIONS—Good California sell at $1 25@1 50 per cental, the latter for choice silver skins.

EGGS—Good supply at 25c per doz.

SALMON—There is nothing doing here and the deadlock in San Francisco continues. Holders there ask $1 3[illegible]@1 35.

LIVE STOCK.

There is good demand for fat beef for the city market at 1¾@2c on foot. Sheep, good condition, live weight bring readily 1½@2c. Hogs are coming in, generally under orders to butchers and are quotable: Dressed, 5½@6c; on foot, 4@4½c.

Sportsmen and Tourists.

THE UPPER CASCADES AND VICINITY, AT the present season offers the finest inducements of perhaps any locality within a radius of 200 miles of Portland. Lake, brook and mountain trout await the disciples of the "gentle art," whilst the followers of Nimrod can find with the festive bear and frolicsome cougar to their heart's content, whilst deer are not unknown.

An elegant and comfortable hotel (The Borthwick House) is now established, with Portland prices, and reliable guides, dogs, boats, guns, and everything necessary for an outfit, can be had within ten minutes.

The glorious mountain scenery, elegant river views, and enormous government works, alone, will amply repay a visit.
